Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

Today when we celebrate the Day of the maternity aid I am appealing to you with respect for your mission to assist in the happening of the greatest miracle of the human life – the birth of our children.

Carry on with all your heart and soul, with professionalism and dedication to serve life. I welcome your daily efforts to enhance your capacity and to win recognition as good specialists in creating better conditions for Bulgarian mothers to give birth to their children.

In spite of the difficulties you are faced with every day, despite selflessness and compromises I wish to all of you to find strength for the humane mission marked your professional choice.

God bless you!

Happy feast-day!
