
Governor Valcho Cholakov and Deputy Governors Sevdalina Turmanova and Vladimir Krumov took part in the events on the occasion of the 137th Anniversary of Bulgaria's Liberation organized by Burgas Municipality. As a tradition the celebration started in Atanas Sirekov Square with a military ritual of hoisting the national flag. Later in front of the Memorial of the Russian Liberators wreaths and flowers have been laid and military honours have been paid. Burgas clergy performed a requiescat in memory of the perished for freedom. Hundreds of Burgas people joined the celebration and rendered homage to the known and unknown warriors who died for our country.
